Name of Activity – Group Discussion

On April 15, 2023, the Geography Department at Huatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya organized an interactive group discussion session, featuring discussions on a range of geographical topics. This activity provided students with the opportunity to engage in thoughtful conversations on important geographical subjects and exchange ideas.

Time for Group Discussion for Every Group – 8+2 Minutes

Group Discussion Sessions:

The group discussion was organized into eight groups, each focusing on a specific geographical topic. Students actively participated in discussions on the following topics:

Climate Change and Global Warming (2 Groups): Students discussed the causes, consequences, and potential solutions to climate change. The discussion explored the impact of geography on climate dynamics and strategies to combat global warming.

Tourism and Ecotourism (3 Groups): Participants explored the concept of tourism and its effects on geographical regions and the environment. The emphasis was on the principles of ecotourism and sustainable travel.

Geographical Information Systems (GIS) (1 Group): The group delved into the applications and significance of GIS technology in various fields, including its role in geographic data analysis, urban planning, and disaster management.

Geographical Impacts of Global Pandemics (2 Groups): The discussions revolved around the geographical aspects of global pandemics, including the spread of diseases, regional responses, and the geographic implications of pandemic control.

Water Scarcity and Management (2 Groups): The groups discussed the challenges and strategies related to water scarcity, with a focus on the geographical distribution of water resources and the solutions to address this issue.

Evaluation and Feedback:

Prof. Dr. D. D. Muluk and Dr. D. M. Markad, as examiners, provided feedback and evaluation of the students' participation. They commended the students for their insightful contributions, analytical thinking, and engagement in the discussions.

The Group Discussion on Geographical Topics was a valuable exercise for second-year geography students at Huatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya. It provided a dynamic platform for students to express their thoughts, engage in thoughtful conversations, and deepen their understanding of various geographical subjects. The Geography Department extends its appreciation to the students for their active participation, as well as to the examiners and the coordinator for their guidance. Such activities contribute to a comprehensive understanding of geography and its relevance to the real world. The department remains committed to organizing events that stimulate intellectual discussions and foster knowledge.
