The Geography Department at Huatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya, Rajgurunagar, organized an essay competition under the theme "Climate Change and its Impacts: Urbanization and Urban Planning" on October 8, 2022. The competition aimed to engage second-year students in a critical exploration of the relationship between climate change, urbanization, and urban planning.

The essay competition was held within the Geography Department at the college and attracted a total of 40 second-year students who were eager to showcase their research and writing skills. This report highlights the top three participants: Kajal Lagade, Payal Kashid, and Rushikesh Bacche.

The chosen topic, "Climate Change and its Impacts: Urbanization and Urban Planning," encouraged students to investigate the effects of climate change on urban development, the challenges it presents, and the strategies for sustainable urban planning. This topic was carefully selected to address the pressing issue of climate change and the growing importance of sustainable urbanization.

Students were introduced to the competition by the faculty in charge. The objectives and rules of the competition were explained, and students were provided with relevant reading materials and resources to aid their research.

Participating students were given time to conduct research, gather data, and analyze information related to climate change, urbanization, and urban planning. They were encouraged to explore both global and local perspectives.

Students were required to submit essays that discussed the impact of climate change on urbanization, the challenges it presents, and potential strategies for sustainable urban planning. The essays were expected to be well-structured, evidence-based, and adhere to academic writing standards.

Evaluation: Essays submitted by the students were assessed based on criteria such as clarity, depth of research, originality, and adherence to academic writing standards.

Top Three Participants:

The Geography Department is pleased to recognize the outstanding performance of the following students:

Kajal Lagade: Kajal demonstrated exceptional research skills and presented a comprehensive essay that provided valuable insights into the impact of climate change on urbanization and sustainable urban planning.

Payal Kashid: Payal's essay was notable for its well-structured argument and in-depth analysis of the challenges posed by climate change in urban areas.

Rushikesh Bacche: Rushikesh presented a well-researched essay that highlighted the importance of sustainable urban planning in mitigating the impacts of climate change.

The Geography Essay Competition at Huatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya, Rajgurunagar, provided a platform for second-year students to delve into the complex issue of climate change and its relationship with urbanization and urban planning. The college commends the top participants, Kajal Lagade, Payal Kashid, and Rushikesh Bacche, for their exceptional contributions to the competition and their commitment to academic excellence.

The Geography Department extends its gratitude to all participating students, faculty members, and staff who contributed to the success of this essay competition.
