A Bonsai Workshop was organized on 28th September 2026 at the Botany Laboratory to provide students with theoretical knowledge as well as practical skills in Bonsai making. The program was well-structured focusing on both conceptual understanding and hands-on training.

The workshop began with the introduction of the Program by Dr. Kirti Nitnaware, who highlighted the importance of Bonsai making and its scope in horticulture. Following this, she introduced the resource person, Ms. Dherange Sanskruti, an alumna of this department, who has vast expertise in the field of ornamental gardening and Bonsai making.

In the beginning, the resource person explained the history, importance, and basic principles of Bonsai making. Participants were introduced to different types of bonsai plants, suitable soil mixtures, pots, tools, and techniques used for shaping and maintaining miniature trees.

The practical session was the main highlight of the workshop. Participants learned how to select suitable plants, prune branches and roots, prepare the soil, transplant plants into bonsai pots, and shape them using proper techniques. They also received guidance on watering, sunlight requirements, fertilization, and regular maintenance of bonsai plants.

The workshop was interactive and informative, allowing participants to gain hands-on experience in bonsai making. It encouraged creativity, environmental awareness, and a sense of responsibility towards plant care.

A discussion session was followed in which participants clarified their doubts and shared their experiences. Overall, the workshop was successful in providing basic knowledge and practical skills in bonsai making. It inspired participants to pursue this beautiful art form and develop an interest in gardening and nature conservation. All the 21 participants who attended the workshop showed keen interest and enthusiasm.
