Poetry Recitation Programme

The Department of English organized a Poetry Recitation Programme on 10th September 2026 at 11:00 a.m. in the English Department. The main objective of the programme was to develop an appreciation of poetry among students and to improve their confidence, pronunciation, communication and public speaking skills. Poetry is an important form of literary expression that communicates emotions, thoughts, experiences, and ideas through beautiful language and rhythm. The programme aimed to provide students with a platform to express their feelings and talents through the recitation of poems. Dr.V. Y. Raskar, Head of the Department of English, coordinated the event successfully. He emphasized the importance of poetry in developing language skills, imagination, creativity, and emotional understanding. He encouraged students to participate actively in literary activities and to develop an interest in English poetry. A total of 20 students participated in the programme with great enthusiasm. The participants recited poems of their choice in English. They presented poems on different themes, including nature, love, life, emotions and human values. The students tried to convey the meaning and feelings of the poems through their pronunciation, voice modulation, expression and presentation. Their performances made the programme interesting and meaningful. Dr. S. S. Mande also participated in the activity by reciting a poem. Through the recitation, she demonstrated the beauty and expressive power of poetry. Dr. Mande also explained the importance of poetry in expressing human emotions, developing imagination, and understanding different aspects of life. The guidance and participation of the faculty members motivated the students and made the event more informative. The programme provided students with an opportunity to overcome stage fear and improve their confidence in speaking English before an audience. It also helped them understand the importance of proper pronunciation, rhythm, voice modulation, and emotional expression while reciting poetry. The event created a positive literary atmosphere and encouraged students to explore the world of English poetry. Prof. V. B. Kathe proposed the vote of thanks and expressed gratitude to everyone who contributed to the success of the programme.
