The Department of Zoology, Hutatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya, Rajgurunagar, organized an Online Quiz Competition on the occasion of Wildlife Week 2026 for F. Y. B.Sc., S. Y. B.Sc. and T. Y. B.Sc. students. The main objective of the competition was to create awareness about wildlife conservation, biodiversity, endangered species and the importance of protecting natural habitats. A total of 47 students actively participated in the online quiz competition. The quiz consisted of multiple-choice questions related to wildlife diversity, national parks, wildlife sanctuaries, endangered animals, environmental protection and wildlife conservation programmes in India.

The competition provided students with an opportunity to assess and enhance their knowledge of wildlife and environmental issues. It encouraged students to understand the importance of biodiversity conservation, ecological balance and the protection of endangered species. Through this activity, students improved their scientific knowledge, environmental awareness and digital learning skills.

The online quiz also motivated students to develop a responsible attitude towards wildlife protection and sustainable environmental practices. Overall, the competition was a successful educational activity that promoted awareness about wildlife conservation and encouraged active student participation in environmental education.
