Report on Reading Inspiration Day

To mark the occasion of Reading Inspiration Day, the Department of English at Hutatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya, Rajgurunagar, organized a special Guest Lecture on 15th October 2024 at 10:30 a.m. in the English Language Laboratory. The day was celebrated in honor of Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam, former President of India and a lifelong advocate of reading, education and self-improvement. The department was privileged to host Prof. A.G. Kulkarni, former Head of the Department of English, as the guest speaker. He delivered an insightful lecture on the topic: “The Impact of English on Career Growth.” The lecture emphasized the importance of English proficiency in the present-day global job market and how mastering the language opens doors to diverse career opportunities in fields such as education, business, media, marketing, law and international relations. The event began with a brief welcome and introduction of the guest by Dr. S.S. Mande, who also served as the program coordinator. She highlighted the significance of Reading Inspiration Day and the relevance of English language skills in building a successful professional life. Prof. Kulkarni, in his address, encouraged students to cultivate reading habits and to develop both written and spoken proficiency in English to stay competitive and confident in academic as well as professional arenas. Prof. Kulkarni also shared practical strategies for improving language skills, such as reading newspapers and literary works, watching English news and documentaries, maintaining a vocabulary journal, and engaging in regular speaking practice. He stressed that English is not just a subject to be studied but a vital life skill that enhances one’s personal development and employability in today’s interconnected world. The session was highly interactive, as students actively participated in the Q&A segment, seeking guidance on language learning, career planning and exam preparation. Prof. Kulkarni’s responses were thoughtful, encouraging and filled with real-world examples, which further enriched the learning experience of the students. The event was well-received and praised for its relevance, inspiration and educational value. Students expressed their appreciation and noted that the session motivated them to invest more time in reading and language improvement. The programme concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. V.Y. Raskar, who expressed his heartfelt gratitude to Prof. A.G. Kulkarni for his valuable insights and to all the participants for making the event a success. The celebration of Reading Inspiration Day through this guest lecture served its purpose of promoting the culture of reading, learning and continuous self-growth.
