The Zonal-Level Avishkar Research Project Competition was held on 7th October 2026 at C. T. Bora College, Shirur, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Students from the Department of Zoology, Hutatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya, Rajgurunagar, participated enthusiastically and represented the college at the zonal level.

The participation was organized under the guidance of Principal Dr. Shirish Pingale and the faculty of the Department of Zoology. A total of two students participated in the competition and presented their research projects. The competition provided an excellent platform for students to showcase their innovative ideas, scientific knowledge, research aptitude, and presentation skills.

The event encouraged students to develop a scientific approach, explore innovative solutions to various problems, and gain valuable experience in research and project presentation. Participation in this competition was a meaningful step towards promoting a research-oriented culture among students.

The Department of Zoology appreciates the efforts of the participating students and encourages them to continue engaging in research activities and innovation-oriented programmes.
